Curriculum Feedback Analysis (2018- 2019)

An Institution's phenomenal growth is measured by meaningful and purposeful changes it ventures to implement in terms of improvement on all academic and administrative fronts. Feedback from the stakeholders is the time-honoured practice to assess performance, infrastructural facilities and societal needs as it subsumes multiple perspectives from multiple sources. The major stakeholders are students, parents, alumni, subject experts and industry experts and our institution has made it a specific practice to collect oral feedback during face to face meetings and written/online feedback at the end of the semester. The thrust areas are generally content of the curriculum, relevance of content and courses, employability and research integrants and ethical integrants.

Students' online feedback collected from UG and PG students encompass various parameters like syllabus, teaching-learning processes, infrastructure, cocurricular and extracurricular activities.

The critical analysis of the data shows highest degree of satisfaction from students, parents and alumni with regard to the dynamic curriculum and ICT enabled teaching methodologies.

Student-friendly suggestions and modifications have been incorporated after detailed deliberations on modalities.

Feedback on the Curriculum:

- Modification of the Syllabus

Nearly 90% of the UG and PG students are convinced and contented with OBE syllabus, Internships, Self-learning Courses and Advanced Learners' Courses.
